HOW DO YOU RATE THE HIBISCUS YOU GROW?

If you don't know what hibiscus variety to buy, or how high it would grow, what color it is, good or bad, or if it is single or double, then how would you like a simplified sheet that would tell you? When you go to a show and see a beautiful bloom of "Joanne Asato" and you think that you would like to buy one how would you like to have a list that would tell you at a glance if this variety is good or bad? Of it some non-member walks up to you at the show and says he would like to know if such and such a variety is a good one to buy, how would you like a to have a list that you could hand him that would be easy to understand, and at the same time tell where he could join the nearest chapter or be a member-at-large?

Well, if all members will co-operate with Mr. Jim Wallace, P. O. Box 1889, Bradenton, Florida, we will have such a list in the not too distant future.

Jim gave out blank rate sheets at the Annual Meeting in Winter Haven this year and asked that the members who had varieties that they had grown for a period of two years or more, fill these blanks in and return them to him. From these completed blanks an average rate can be arrived at for each variety and a simplified list made up that can be used as "give-aways" at the shows.

It will take the work of all of us. Please get with it and help. If you don't have blanks you can get them by dropping a card to Jim or the Executive Secretary.
